YOEMEN WILL OPEN CONFERENCE FRIDAY

The Yoemen open their Conference bid here Friday night at 7:15 against the Georgetown Eagles.

There are many factors involved in the meeting of these traditional rivals in District 31-A which point to a bang up ball game and nothing in them to indicate the Yoemen have anything ahead but a hard fight. Georgetown lost to Killeen last Friday night 27 to 0 in the rain but anything can happen in the rain.

Fans here will get a chance to see R. D. Howard, 150 pound sensational left halfback of the Eagles who sparks the Georgetown team. Howard is one of the best kickers in the state. On last Friday night against Killeen he punted a wet ball 65 yards.

The Eagles will outweigh the Yoemen, their line averaging 154 pounds. The Yoemen line will average 152 pounds. Again in the backfield the Eagles will have the weight advantage of their backs will weigh in at 150 pound average while the Yoemen average is only 141 pounds.

The Yoemen have played three games, none of them conference. They have scored 80 points and as yet have not been scored on. The Yoemen have given up but 6 first downs. In the Navasota game the Yoemen line demonstrated it can play a great defensive game. When the Navasota team recovered on the Yoemen one yard line the line rose up and smacked down all threats and got the ball on downs.

30 DEGREES FRIDAY IN AMARILLO AREA

Texas weather was cutting fantastic capers as usual Friday.

Amarillo experienced 30 degree temperatures at noon in the first cold norther of the year. In Cameron it was 95 degrees.

The norther was expected to reach the Rio Grande Valley by Saturday. The sudden break in almost midsummer temperatures was a bit unusual even for Texas weather. Little change comes before October.

According to a weather forecast the norther was expected to reach Cameron early Friday evening, but don't count on that. Remember it is Texas weather. Fort Worth expected 40 degree weather and so does Dallas. It was expected to be 60 degrees in San Antonio. It was 95 at noon in the Alamo City.

The last cold spell headed into Texas three weeks ago and was lost in the hills around Fredricksberg.

Strong south winds have been a surprising occurence in September. Temperatures are usually high in September but winds like March are unusual. Just remember it is Texas weather. It may be freezing as far south as Rosebud and hot as blazes in Cameron.

Rain and high winds were accompanying the change in weather. Texas was rejoicing over the rainfall.

MOLOTOV QUITS LONDON CONFERENCE IN ANGER

Foreign Minister Molotov of Russia, walked out on the London Conference Tuesday, in anger, over a remark by Mr. Bevens, British Labor Leader.

Mr. Molotov demanded that France and China be heard in the big five conference. Mr. Bevens said it "sounded like Hitlerism." Mr. Molotov, in anger, said he would go home to Moscow, if the remark was not retracted. Mr. Bevens apologised.

British newspapers have been saying the Conference is a failure, and it means another war. That is what happened after World War 1. The nations could not agree. A little two fisted diplomacy on the part of Uncle Sam seems to be called for.

General George Patton has been relieved of command of the Third American Army by General Eisenhower and Lt. Gen. Lucian Prescott has succeeded Patton, effective Oct. 7. General Patton was given command of the Fifteenth Army.

34 JAPS ARRESTED ON CREMATION CHARGES

34 Japanese officers and enlisted men were arrested Friday for the burning alive of 100 Allied prisoners of war in the Philippines.

Better treatment for the Japs may result from these new discoveries of atrocities. They are now sorry about all this and wanting to get back to making new cars and strikes as civic exercise for labor, led us to conclude the war in the Pacific.

Hirohito has had a long talk with General MacArthur. What they talked about is a guarded secret, so they said Friday. It was a humilation to the Japanese people for their emporer to go calling on a white man, but anything will be done to win the peace.

Bolivia has broken off relations with Spain.

Strikes spread over the nation. It looked like every industry in the United States would be affected.

SECRETARY BYRNES ON WAY TO WASHINGTON

The Big Five Conference in London has failed and Secretary of State James F. Byrnes is on his way home.

It was generally conceded that the conference broke up in a wide disagreement and between Foreign Commisar Molotov of Russia and Ernest Bevens, British Labor Leader, almost came to blows in the closing hours of the fateful conference.

Contrary to previous reports Molotov, grabled in transmission, the Russian refused to agree that China and Japan have a say in the writing of a Peace Treaty in Europe. Mr. Molotov said that it was agreed at the Potsdam conference that only those nations which signed the conditions of surrender would have a voice in the peace treaty.

Greatly disappointed Secretary Byrnes is on his way home.

Molotov gave notice that Russia intends to have a hand in the occupation administration of Japan.

The people of the world who stood up and defeated the Axis powers know nothing of what happened beyond the press conference statements. Whether the turn of events are as serious as indicated remains to be proved.

On the surface there is no peace. Just where the actual blame is to be put is not certain. In the peace settlements after the last world war Great Britain stood the offender and contributed more to the failure than any other nation.

Only a question of time...

Telephone factories are already turning out some of the equipment needed to serve the 246,000 persons waiting for telephones in the Southwest at war's end.

That stream will grow mightily in the months ahead. It will move slowly for a while of course. It takes time to manufacture and install new apparatus.

A telephone alone contains 248 precision parts. Switchboards and dial central office equipment for only 10,000 telephones must be designed to handle nearly 50,000,000 possible interconnections.

But we've made a start. We've turned the corner. We're on our way. Every month ahead brings us closer to serving all who want telephones without delay.

Willian E. Manley Sea Veteran Returns

A Veteran of two years and 7 months of combat action, both in the Atlantic and Pacific, William Eugene Manley, baker 2-C, of Taylor, has received his Honorable discharge according to a Navy Department announcement.

He enlisted in October 1941, and has earned nine battle Stars. A baker by trade, before entering the service, Manley has no idea of stopping now. He says, "I'll get a job with the first bake shop I can."

Aboard a destroyer, the USS Preble, Manley participated in action which resulted in the sinking of two submarines in the early days of the war. Later he was transfered to the escort Carrier, USS Card, which operated in the Atlantic, getting credit for a good portion of the work of driving the German U-boats out of our shipping lanes.

"The toughest action I was ever in' said Manley, was the USS Monterey, a CVL type Carrier. He says the Japs really threw the planes at us, but we came through safe. Also, while he was on the Monterey we were caught in the hurricane last December which did so much damage to our fleet. The Monterey was near Leyte at the time, and Manleys battle station was with a fire fighting party, which was the only time he ever had to fight fire. Some gasoline broke loose and was splashing around on deck becoming ignited. He says, "fighting fire for hours, while being tossed by the storm, was perfect hell."

Manley is the husband of the former Norine Lange of Cameron.

Americans have a word for it

Bill Larkin's boy, who's back from overseas for good, was telling us about the funny customs and the different languages of European countries.

One thing he noticed is that in so many of those countries there is no word for "home." "House," yes . . . or "building." But no name that stands for what we mean when we say home.

"In spite of the fact," says Bill, "that it's the most important thing there is . . . a place where you can take your shoes off and let down your hair . . . enjoy a glass of beer before the fire and relax with folks you love!"

From where I sit, that may be an important difference between this country and some others. The conception of home as a place of tolerance and sacred loyalties—where differences of habit and opinion give way before love and understanding! Yes, we Americans have a name for it!

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK—OCTOBER 1-8

THE AMERICAN PRESS..TORCH OF WORLD PEACE
We join all Americans this week in paying tribute to the men and women of the American Press for doing an outstanding job of disseminating news of the world during war and peace . . . and in honoring the American War Correspondents who exposed themselves to the dangers of battle in order to keep the public informed regarding the progress of the war. As the American Press has been the source of truth in news during the trying years of the war, so will it be the torch of world peace in the future.
TEXAS POWER & LIGHT COMPANY

An Emergency Appeal
From Our Millions Still in Service

YES, the war is over . . . but not the work of several million G.I.'s!

Ask any soldier what "Occupation Duty" means—and he'll tell you it may be the most important job in the army right now, but one of the dreariest ones.

He'll tell you the novelty wears off soon, being in a strange country among strange people. That the Main Drag in Tokyo or Berlin can't compare with Main Street in Topeka or Boston.

There are millions of boys thousands of miles from home who'd give anything to listen to an American song, hear American jokes, or talk to an American girl again.

That's why the U.S.O. cannot and must not quit. Your dollars must keep it going. For if ever those boys needed a lift and a laugh, they need it now!

The need is so urgent that General Eisenhower asked U.S.O. Camp Shows to quadruple its activities after V-E Day to take care of the boys in Europe. And similar entertainment plans have been made for our forces in Japan and throughout the lonely Pacific outposts.

But that's not all . . .

U.S.O. Camp Shows also entertain the troops in transit . . . at debarkation and separation centers. U.S.O. Clubs and lounges in the States, Alaska, Hawaii, the Philippines, and many other bases, give the boys "a home away from home." Some 500 U.S.O. Clubs are located near military hospitals . . . and special Camp Shows tour the wards . . . to keep the wounded on the sunny side.

Yes, millions still in service are depending on YOU for a bit of cheer. For a large part of every dollar you give to your local Community Campaign goes to support the U.S.O.

The need is greater than ever. So try to give more than ever, won't you? Show the boys you haven't forgotten them!

YOEMEN TRIUMPH IN NAVASOTA MUD BATTLE

The Yoemen won a mud battle against Navasota Friday night and in doing so served notice that they will be serious contenders for the District championship.

The victory was far from easy, in fact it was won by the line. With just 2 minutes to play and the Navasota team backed up on their goal, Gerick, playing left end broke through and blocked a kick and Graham, the Cameron right end fell on the ball in the end zone and it was 6 to 0

Brilliant line play, getting tough when the cards were down, saved the Yoemen a possible defeat

Just as the teams took the field rain began to fall. Navasota kicked off to Cameron and as the ball went down field a deluge of rain fell and continued to fall. On the attempted run back the ball was fumbled and Navasota recovered on the Cameron 1 yard line. On four downs the Navasota team failed to gain and were thrown back some 15 yards. Rain was pouring down.

The Yoemen line played a bit of heroic football. They wouldn't yield. The line with Graham and Hawkins at ends; Bob Kirk and Bruce Price at tackle positions; Kunz and Wallis at guard and Jimmy O'Neill at center, turned back this threat. The ball went over on downs and Jimmy Marek who did the kicking for the night, sent it out to the Navasota 40 and from there on the game was won.

Navasota was able to make only one first down while the Yoemen piled up nine, but that was about all the yardage. The rain continued through the entire first half but cleared away later, leaving the field a sea of mud.

Coach Jackson was mighty proud of his boys Saturday morning when he subbed in at The Herald for a check up on details of the game. It was simply a matter of winning or losing and the Cameron line turned the trick. The Yoemen demonstrated they can play defensive as well as offensive ball and that is a winning combination in any body's league.

The game was played with 14 Yoemen. Three substitutions were made, Salach at Guard and Gerick at end one other not shown in the information at hand.

Cameron blocked at least 5 punts and this is the story of how the line was playing the game.

Late in the 4th quarter the Yoemen got ambitious and Michalka hit T. J. O'Neill with a pass for 30 yards and the fleet little back hit out for pay dirt. He lost but it was the Navasota safety man who brought him down. That set up the game for the Cameron score as the Navasota team was never able to get out of the shadow of their goal.

The Yoemen used reverses, cut backs and end sweeps, the T formation proving its worth even on a muddy field. There was only one fumble from the line of scrimmage and it was recovered by Cameron.

Capt. R. T. Patterson Serves With Marines

Two sad faced Japanese officers at the Naval base and training station in Kurihama, Japan, the surrender of their treasured samuria swords to Marine occupation forces was a final symbol of defeat.

In an official surrender ceremony at the naval training station where Japanese sailors had been taught the use of mines and communications, a hundred Japanese officers gave up what apparently was their most precious piece of personal property.

The Naval Station surrender was accepted by Marine Captain Robert T. Patterson, Jr., of Rogers, Texas, who took the personal sword of the acting Commandant of the post, Japanese Navy Lt. Commander H. Ota. Then Capt. Patterson, assisted by officers of his artillery battery, collected the swords of other Japanese officers, some of whom seemed almost in tears.

The swords are being held by the Marine Corps pending instructions regarding their disposition under the plan of occupation. But many of the Marines hope to get one as a trophy of their visit to Japan.

Capt Patterson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Patterson, Sr., of Rogers. His wife is the former Miss Dorothy Rentfro, who resides at Beaumont. Captain and Mrs. Patterson will be remembered as former teachers in the Cameron Yoe High School. Captain Patterson is a cousin of Mrs. Elmo Obermiller of Cameron.

ISN'T Good Living JUST A MATTER OF CHOICE?

Good foods carefully selected and properly prepared are the basis of good living. Among all the foods you serve, good coffee is probably the most important. It's the "backbone" of many menus, notably breakfast and supper; it's the one part of any meal that must be good if other foods are to be enjoyed. Hence don't take chances by trying to save a penny or two a pound. Buy the choicest, most skillfully blended coffee the market offers. Such a coffee is Admiration—superb in quality, rich in flavor, delightfully aromatic and inviting. More people in the Southwest drink it than any other brand. There's a reason.

great attack on the port where American troops and supplies were being landed. Stidham's ship had made the port and was under orders to proceed back to a west coast port. The Jap attack was a part of the extensive sea battle of Midway. They put in to Port at Seatttle. Their duty was convoy. The weather was bitter cold sometimes freezing their gun and torpedo tubes.

In December of 1942 he transfered as a volunteer for submarine duty and was sent to New London, Connecticut where on April 16, 1942, he completed his courses and went to sea on the Submarine Gunnel. They cruised to the Canary Islands and then through the Panama Canal to the Pacific, reaching the western waters the latter part of April. Capt. John S. McCay, son of Admiral McCay, task force commander, is the commander of the Submarine Gunnel. "He's a grand skipper," said Stidham.

They stopped over night in Pearl Harbor on their way to the war zone. They could see the hulls of two American battleships in the harbor, the Arizona and the Oklahoma. There he saw Tom Hobson, United States Marine, with a sea going outfit. Hobson was serving aboard the Oklahoma which was sunk and later refloated and put back in service. Hobson was forced to jump overboard when the great ship capsized and was saved.

On their way to take on the Japs the Gunnel proceeded to Nakasaki, Japan. It was a dull trip over. They submerged off Nakasaki and waited. In about a week they got their chance and sent a Jap raider to the bottom. The Jap was sunk by means of radar. "It was foggy and dark," said Stidham, "but we picked up the ship and brought it in by Radar. Then we put three torpedoes in her and saw it sink. We topped water and steamed over the spot where the radier had gone down. There were a few Jap life boats and some wreckage around but we paid no attention to them, in fact we may have just run a few of them down. In those days we men of the navy weren't so particular what we did to the Japs."

"A few hours later we picked up a convoy and followed it all night. At about 6 a. m. we made our attack. The sun was coming up over the waters. In all we released ten torpedoes. One Jap ship was cut in half and we saw her sink. We scored hits on two other ships and left them listing badly. A Jap destroyer made for us. We submerged and remained down until 10:30 that night. In all we withstood 80 depth charges. Down under water with those tin cans exploding over you and the sub pitching from the blasts is an experience I had many times. On this occasion it looked like the end. Well, in the submarine service you either come back or you don't and you never come home with a leg gone. It's usually goodbye when they get at you. I will not soon forget that long and bitter night. Our oxygen was running low and our batteries were running low. We had to surface. When we rose up to the surface three Jap destroyers were picked up by radar and they were not far away. They soon discovered us. We tried to run for it. The Japs were about 2 miles away. They started for us and got close enough to start firing.

"Commander McCay stayed on the bridge and gave orders. Our crew lined up the torpedoe tubes. We made our drive and fired at the same time. We sunk one of the destroyers. We had been up long enough to restore our batteries. The Japs stayed around and pounded us 8 hours with depth charges. Ten hours later we had lost them and surfaced to find two of our engines had gone out on us. We had a lot of trouble with engines. Looked to me like they were faulty of construction.

"We hit out for Pearl Harbor for we had to get reparis. That was in January 1943. After we got fixed up at Pearl Harbor we came on to San Francisco and I got a 30 day leave and came home, a place I never thought I would see again while off the Jap mainland sinking their ships."

"After my visit home I returned to the west coast and left the good old U. S. A. on October 21, 1943, for Pearl Harbor.

"Our submarine again went back to Japan, this time direct to Tokyo Bay where we lay in waiting and here again we almost failed to come back home. We got 4 torpedoes released against us by a Jap submarine. Needless to say none of them hit us. While we were off the Tokyo Harbor we got three more Jap ships. After we had stayed there as long as we could, the Gunnel was put into port at Midway Island where we rested for 15 days. On February 1, 1944, we left Midway for the Philippines and to Perth, Australia where we were based. We made four runs out of Perth and we got 18 Japanese ships, one of them 18 thousand ton armed raider and two were destroyers. On one convoy we picked up we got 5 out of 7 of the ships and that is a pretty good average, although some have wiped out the entire convoys. We were not exactly satisfied but we were doing something to the Japs, alright.

"On our last run out of Perth we got 11 ships. This was the biggest haul we made. I shall never forget that run. We knocked those Japs around like cracker boxes. We had a great submarine and our crew were about the best I ever saw. They really handled those guns and tubes.

"After our last run out of Perth we picked up 11 American flyers on a small island off Palawan which is off the coast of Boreneo. They had been forced down after an attack. I do not know how long they had been there but long enough to get in with the Philippine Guerillas. One of the Americans was a squadron commander, off of a carrier of the Essex class. The Guerillas brought them out in boats and we sent those boats back loaded with guns, grenades and ammunition. We took the flyers to Saipan. We lost a crew member between Leyte and Mindanao. He was knocked overboard. There were a number of Jap war ships around, about 24. Another sub picked up our crew member. The Philippinos took him some 500 miles and finally delivered him to one of our ships. I later saw him in San Francisco.

"Those Philippinos are great fighters. When we picked up the 11 American flyers we saw the Chief. He had a list on which were the names of 400 Philippinos who had collaborated with the Japs. They had killed all but 3 of them and I feel sure they got them too.

"I got to come home again in February 1945. When I went back I transfered to the submarine Park and spent 7 months in American waters. We finally hit out again for the far Pacific. We were two days out of Pearl Harbor when the war ended. We went on to Pearl Harbor and after 2 days there we came back through the Panama Canal and stopped at New Orleans.

Stidham, just 21, lacks only a few points of his discharge which he plans to ask for when his time is up. It will be four years in May since he enlisted.
